HURRICANE

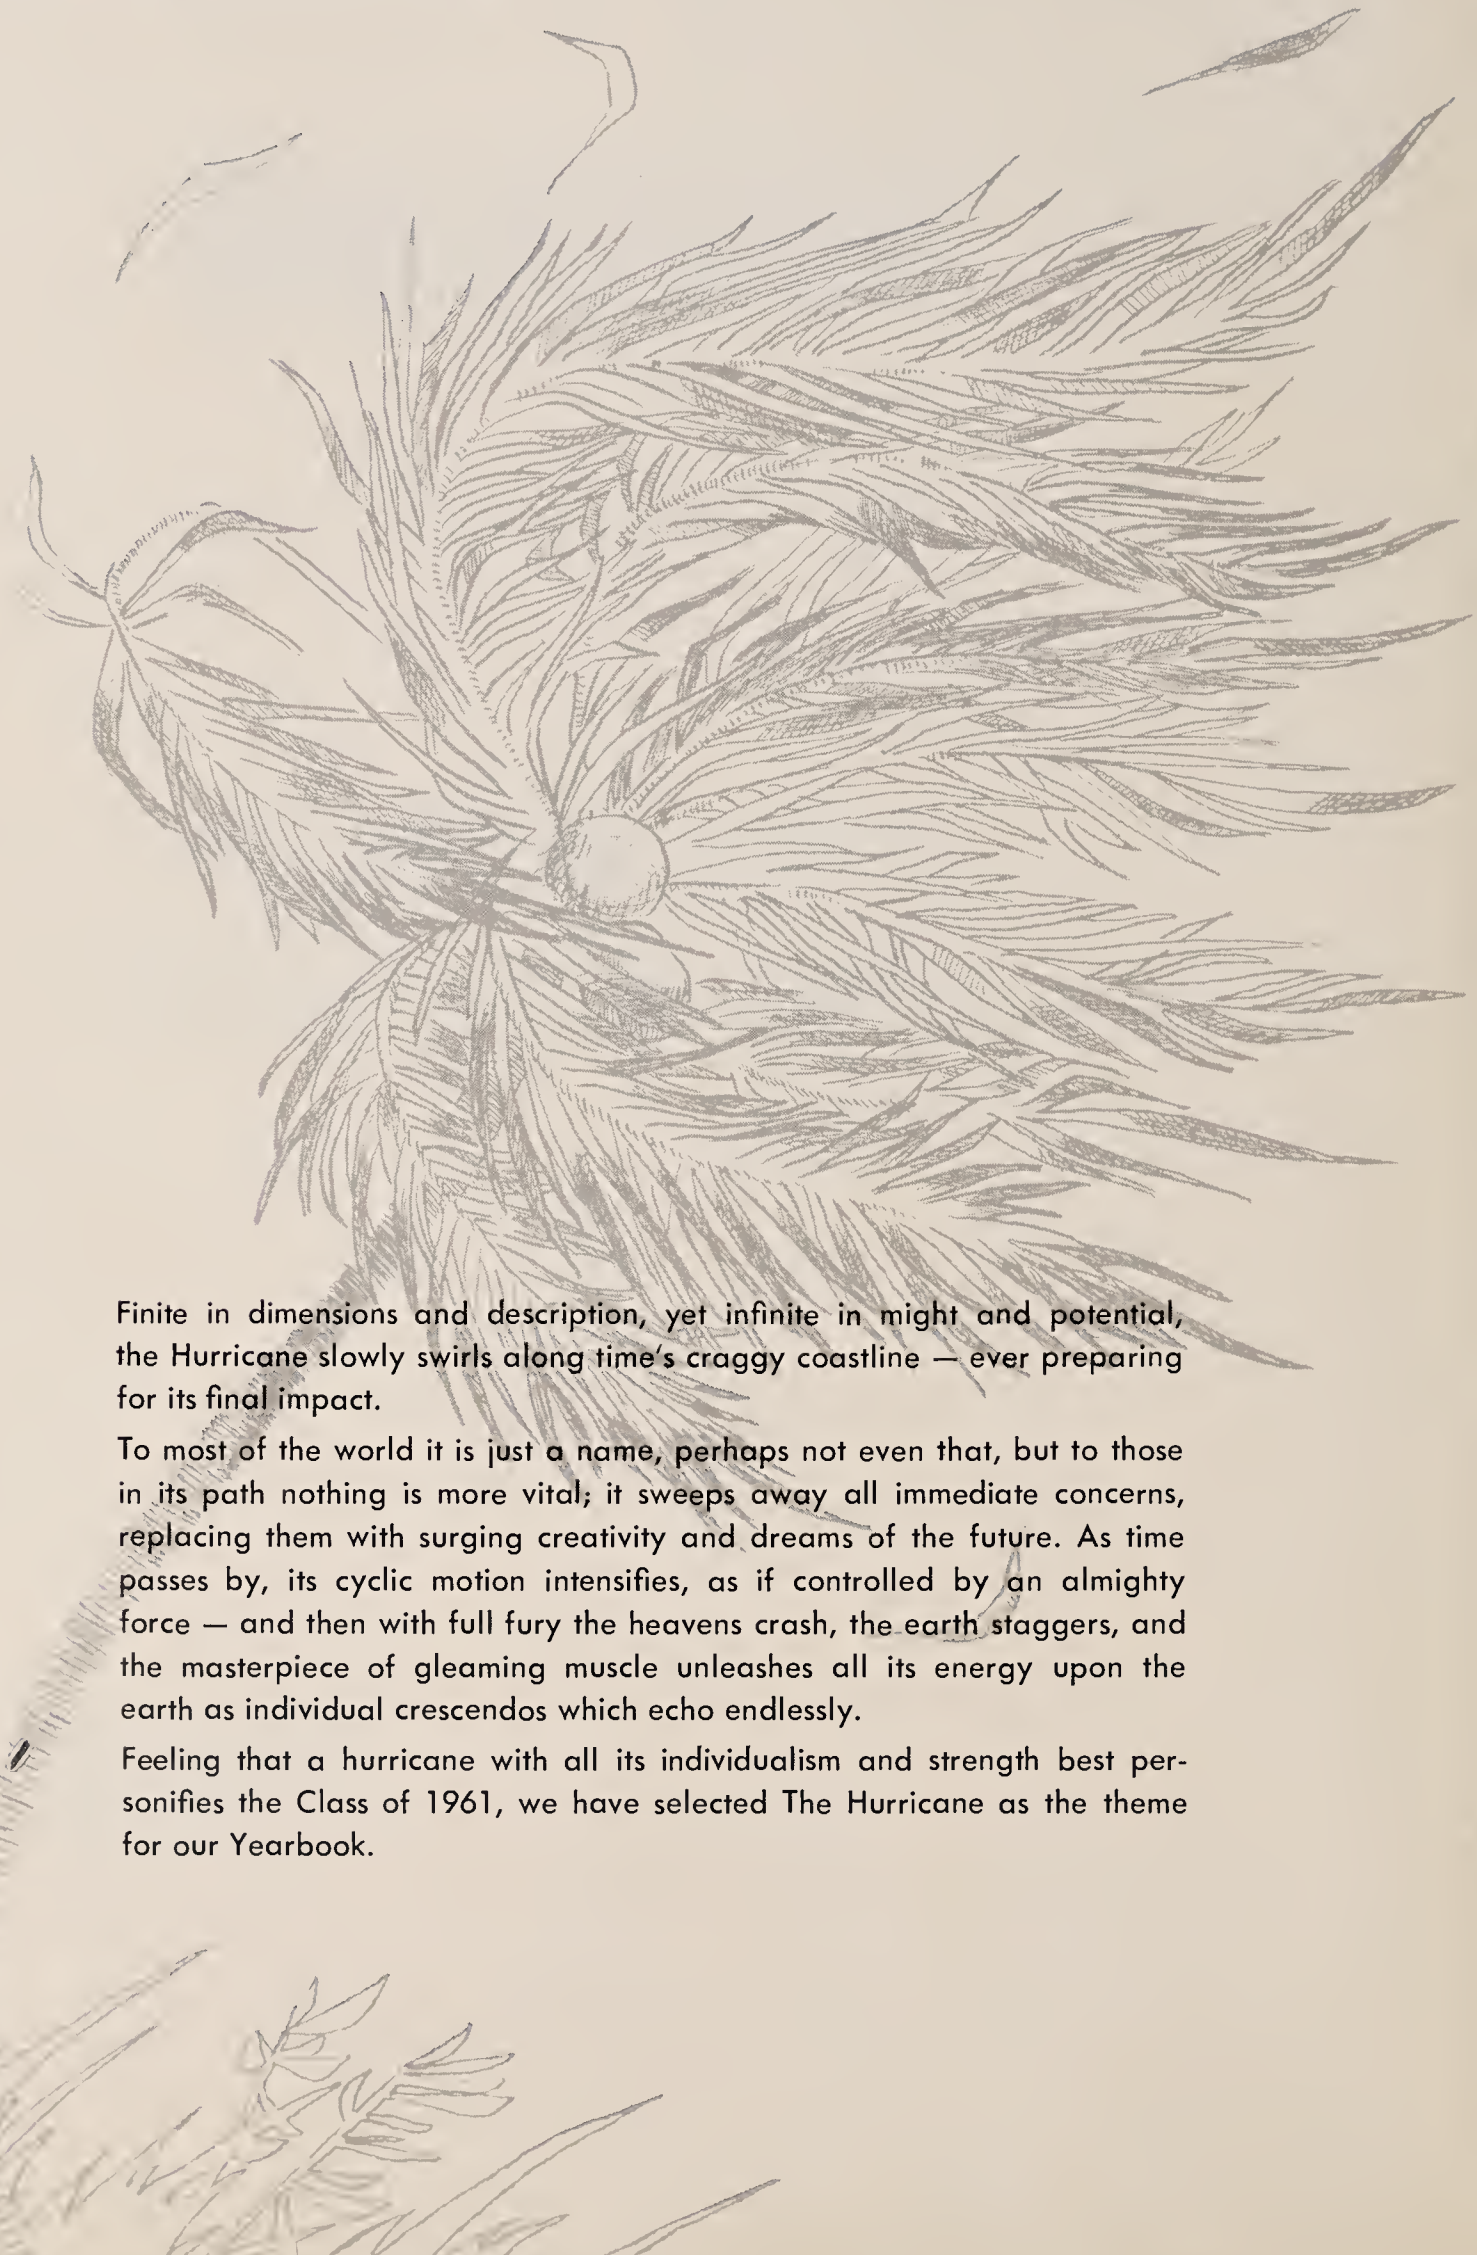
WESTON HIGH SCHOOL

WESTON, MASSACHUSETTS

1961

FOREWORD



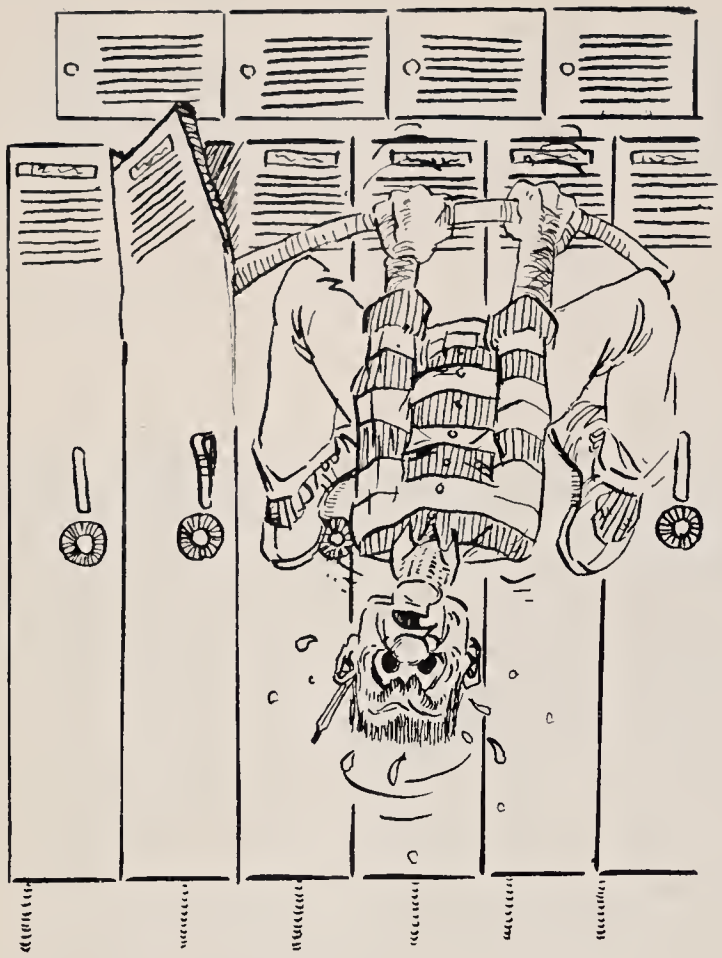
Finite in dimensions and description, yet infinite in might and potential, the Hurricane slowly swirls along time's craggy coastline — ever preparing for its final impact.

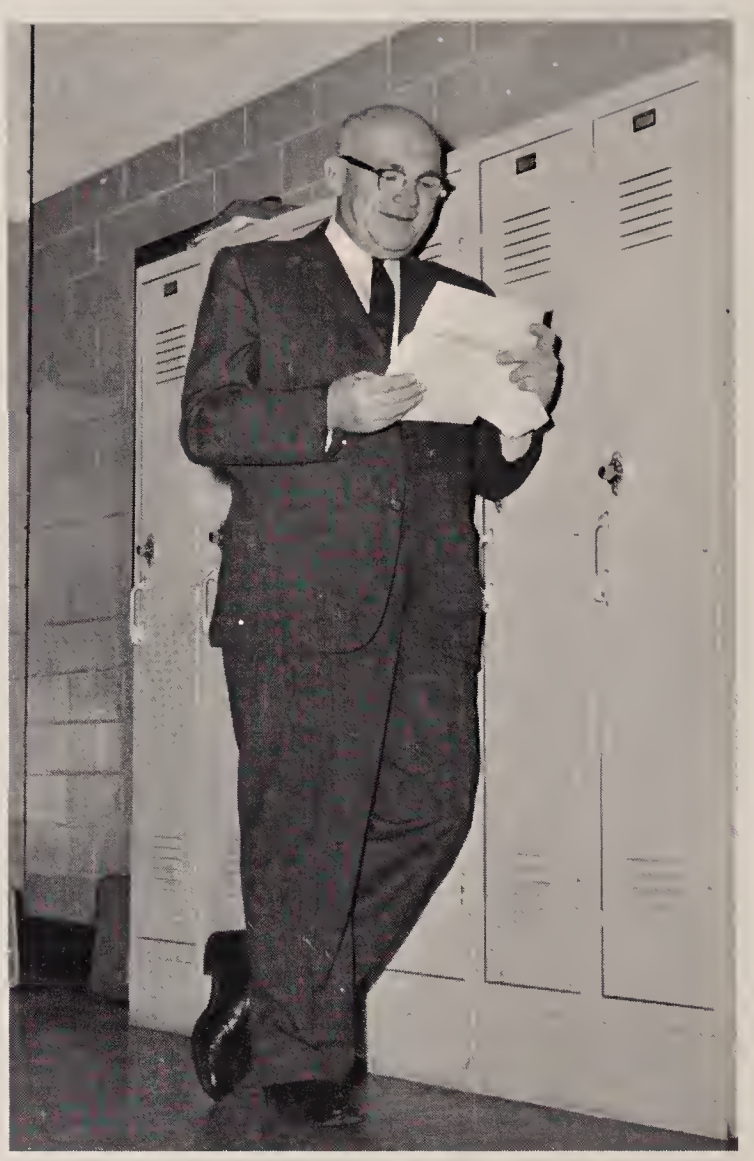
To most of the world it is just a name, perhaps not even that, but to those in its path nothing is more vital; it sweeps away all immediate concerns, replacing them with surging creativity and dreams of the future. As time passes by, its cyclic motion intensifies, as if controlled by an almighty force — and then with full fury the heavens crash, the earth staggers, and the masterpiece of gleaming muscle unleashes all its energy upon the earth as individual crescendos which echo endlessly.

Feeling that a hurricane with all its individualism and strength best personifies the Class of 1961, we have selected The Hurricane as the theme for our Yearbook.

DEDICATION

To your family, community, school, and especially the Class of 1961, you represent the very best in man. As an administrator and teacher, you have not only displayed a high degree of devotion and dedication, but you have exhibited the humility and inspiration which befits only a true leader. Although you have been an administrator with numerous day by day responsibilities, you have never isolated yourself from the Class of 1961 and have always placed the individual far above the institution you have so faithfully served. As a result of your assistance to the student body through sincere interest in student activities and needs, you have extended the integrity which you as a person possess to the name of Weston High School. As we depart from Weston, we will take with us cherished memories of you, and aspire to pursue the Christian principles you have displayed during our four years with you. It is in apppreciation and gratitude for your unerring fidelity and service in making us better men and women that we dedicate the Yearbook of the Class of 1961 to you, Mr. Aimo Teittinen.





A letter from Mussel Shoals

"Mr. Keene, look at mine!"

EYE ON THE HURRICANE

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Smith

Dr. Anthony Brackett, Superintendent of Schools; Willard H. Smith, Principal of the High School; and Aimo Teittinen, Vice-Principal have devoted their lives to education, our education. It has been their job to keep us moving along the path of learning. They have had to prod us all at one time or another; we owe them gratitude for the time they have taken to do so.

Dr. Brackett

Mr. Teittinen

When it comes to arranging inter-scholastic athletics, hiring buses, and selling tickets, the man in charge is Athletic Director John Proctor. Aside from his present position, he can be found during the winter months at Cat Rock. Students will remember him for the many winning football teams he coached.

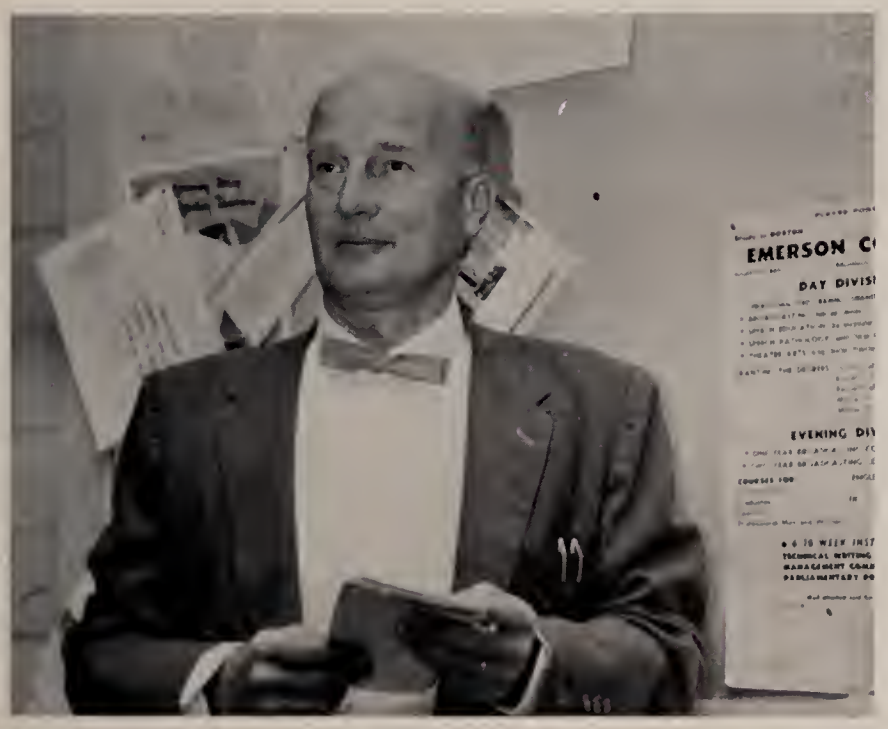
GUIDANCE

Mr. Robert Carini and Mrs. Dorothy Abbott comprise the Guidance Department. They assist each year's crop of seniors in college preparations and administer standardized tests — SCAT, STEP, ETC. Mr. Carini also coaches the basketball team.

ENGLISH

The members of the English Department in the adjoining picture are the following: Mr. Charles Hatch, master of facial expressions, lover of mice and steamrollers, and advocate of modern British poetry; Mr. Robert Walker, avid Walt Whitman admirer, co-advisor of the Literary Magazine, and coach af the J.V. football team; Miss Claire McDonough, Head of the English Department, and lover of music and the theater; Mr. Robert Clawsan, a new member of the department, a graduate af Harvard, and co-advisor to the staff of the Literary Magazine; and Miss Dorothy Deisher, graduate af Earlham College and Head of Publications.

SPEECH



Mr. Jahn W. Zorn divides his time between keeping the Announcers' Club functioning and directing the annual school play. With his clipboard or book tucked under his arm, he is a familiar figure throughout the school.

READING

Miss Callahan teaches remedial reading, a non-credit course designed far thase students who wish to imprave their reading ability. Below she demonstrates a device which aids in increasing reading speed.

Mrs. "Z"amprogno, second and third year French teacher and mainstay of the Language Department, has never failed to win the respect of the faculty and student body alike throughout her teaching career.

Mrs. Venezia Mezzacappa teaches first and second year French. Her understanding nature helps students over the many hurdles encountered in learning a language.

Our first, second, and third year Latin teacher, Mrs. Jeanette Bucuvalas, is noted for her expressive poses, Churchillian proses, and, oh yes, her teaching.

Under the technical guidance of Mrs. Rosenthal, students use the facilities of the language laboratory to improve pronunciation and comprehension through tape recordings and oral practice.

Mrs. Harriet Nelson is a first year French and Latin teacher who uses her wide travel experience to enliven her presentation of life abroad.

LANGUAGE

In addition to teaching World Geography, Mr. Robert Marotta, a graduate of Tufts University, has been working in an informal atmosphere with those students who desire a knowledge of the Russian language and people.

SCIENCE

New to the faculty this year is Mr. Kinley Herboldsheimer who teaches general science and chemistry. A recent import from the Juniar High, he illustrates proper lab technique in the abave picture.

With used bricks, toy carts, knotted elastics, and various improved apparatus, Mr. Irving G. Marsden gives students a better understanding of the universe as seen through the eyes of the P.S.S.C.

Famed in song and story, Mr. Irving C. Keene has created the livingest living biology lab this school has ever seen. Birdwalks, honey bees, geraniums and guinea pigs (amidst the staggered piles of conservation notebooks and attitude cards) are only small fragments of the living legend he has created in his three years with us. Below, Mr. Keene and Miss Elaine Jevely, a new member of the biology department, interview a new tenant of the conservatory.

Everything from rusting nails to nitroglycerine falls under the jurisdiction of Mr. Wallace Sawyer, chemistry teacher and Head of the Science Department. Under such guiding lights as Mussel Shoals and the Haber Process, most students learn to pour acid into water, not water into acid. A few forget.

MATH

Miss Martha Zelinka, wha teaches mathematics and advises the Math Club, is Head af the Math Department. Her pawerful persanality will indeed be remembered by all her students.

Mr. Jeremiah Kellett, mathematician extraordinaire, is famed far his "Big Pictures" and "f'rinstances." Erraneously knawn as the Father af Impractical Applications, he has nevertheless left his indelible mark on histary.

Plane geametry and algebra are ta one anather as Miss Ellen Halt is to Mrs. June Ellswarth. It is their task ta develap an interest in thase students wha are taking math caurses far the first time. From the size af the higher math classes, it appears that they have succeeded.

LIBRARY

Mrs. Signe Hynson is the school librarian. She not only keeps the library functioning smoothly — a major task in itself — but she is always ready to help you find a book or back issue of a magazine which you need. She deserves a great deal of credit for her work and her tolerance during many a trying library study hall.

A typical library study?

BUSINESS

Mrs. Thelma Hoyle, Director of Business Education at Weston High, teaches typing, stenography, and proper office techniques to the future secretaries of the school. She has indeed made the clatter of typewriters familiar to everyone passing along the downstairs corridor.

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Ruth Raymond and Miss Muriel Sutherland are the school's experts on sewing machines, needle and thread, apple pie, and burnt toast. Under their guidance, aspiring young homemakers investigate needlework and the culinary arts; even the 7th and 8th graders get into the act and keep Miss Sutherland busy during their afternoon cooking and sewing classes. Mrs. Raymond's "little helpers" have had more experience, but still know how to cook up a storm.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. Halston Lewis and Mr. Norman Smith strive to give Weston High School students a better understanding of both American History and current national and world affairs. Their classes are the scenes of debates and organized discussions rivaling those of the political figures with which the students are so often concerned.

Mr. Leo J. Cronan, a member of the Modern Problems Coalition, is also the Driver Education instructor. Ever holding the trump card, his finger poised above the proverbial button, he waits for the opportunity to make things look like the 4th of July. It takes a calm mind and nerves of steel to be the driving force behind D.E., and Mr. Cronan has just the system for the job.

MUSIC

Mr. Robert Corley is director of music for the Weston school system. The band, orchestra, and singing groups all participate in the annual Spring Concert, as well as enliven various holiday assemblies. Mr. Corley is the staff behind these organizations, each of which demands hours of preparation and rehearsal. To misquote an old adage, "A conductor's work is never done."

Mr. George Harris is the boys' physical education teacher and coach of the varsity football and baseball teams. His job is indeed a trying one. Daily he answers the supreme questions, "We goin' out, Coach?" and "Shawas, Coach?" Is it any wonder that he is tired by the time the afternoon practices roll around? There's no stopping because two hours on the practice field or baseball diamond and the long wait until everyone has left still remain. He certainly must look forward to summer vacation.

Miss Marie Butera is the girls' Physical Education teacher. Her facetious introductory comment on the first day of school, "I think you are all aware of the aim of this course. It is to make Amazons out of you," is a prime example of why the girls enjoy gym and after school activities. She has taught them proficiency in sports, as well as in sportsmanship. They will always remember Miss Butera.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"Charge!"

"Come now, girls!"

Mr. Hale and Mr. Teittinen

ART

A patient, talented teacher, Miss Olliff is a wonderful help to prom and graduation decoration committees. The art students missed her in the fall this year when she was in the hospital.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. Teittinen and Mr. Hale manage the manual arts section of the curriculum. In charge of Mechanical Drawing and Industrial Arts respectively, these gentlemen instruct their students in useful fundamentals applicable in their future careers.

Making rings and things

SUBSTITUTE

Mrs. Czarnowski — "The Great Imposter" — successfully plays the teacher's roll in anything and everything. To the Class of 1961 she has become a regular member of the faculty.

Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Minsky

SECRETARIAT

Mrs. Helene Minsky, Mrs. Rita Hawkins, Mrs. Elaine Sinclair, and Mrs. Betty Giben manage the clerical affairs associated with running a high school. The increased office staff testifies to the greater amount of work required to administer our ever expanding school. As if that is not enough, there are always the students with unauthorized requests for late bus tickets or notes from home (?) designed especially to pester harried secretaries. Don't try to tell a secretary there is no such thing as a gremlin.

CUSTODIANS

Mr. MacLeod, Mr. Clark, and Mr. Merrill, with the addition of Mr. Cain (not pictured above), are the men who keep the school free of grease, grime, and the little mechanical problems — lockers and lights — which so often plague any institution.

"Though students seem bound to books and spiels, they cannot live without daily meals," is the philosophy of Mrs. Riley and the school kitchen workers. It is no easy job to supply hoards of hungry students with their noon meal, and, at the same time keep enough bread and gravy for the third shift.

PROM

Stars, stars, and more stars symbolized our junior prom — "Heaven on Earth." Suspended by invisible threads, the stars concealed the dark gym ceiling, and billowing parachutes, illuminated by soft lights, hid the corner rafters. Miles of pink, blue, and white crepe paper strips formed a delicate lattice work between the tables and the dance floor. Weeks of collecting cardboard tubes and working at Anne Jones's barn resulted in a golden gate, a towering organ, gilded harps, and a majestic throne. Queen Jan Olson and her court reigned over the "Heaven on Earth." Except for those too tired to enjoy it, the prom was the best dance ever held at Weston High School.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Enthusiastically headed by Pete Borrelli, the sexodecimo membered Student Council has blazed the trail of developing school spirit and student honor at Weston. It has been the council's determined goal to adopt a student honor system in which students lead and discipline themselves. It's progressive beliefs and productive actions, overseen by Coach Harris and Mr. Kellett, make it comparable to F.D.R.'s administration with its numerous committees and increased responsibility in school affairs. Notable projects of the year were continuing the corridor monitor system, organizing student-supervised study halls, running school elections, and approving school dress, as well as carrying out many other menial tasks typical of any administrative body. Members of the Student Council voice the motley collection of views of their constituents in the small democracy of Weston High School.

KNEELING: J. Sabean, R. Miller, S. Petrick, B. Foster, P. Borrelli, K. McMullin, R. Berry, H. Storm. STANDING: Coach Harris, N. Low, B. White, B. Boden, J. Akers, A. King, S. Vagt, G. White, Mr. Kellett.

HONOR SOCIETY

To become a member of the Carl T. Rhodes Chapter of the National Honor Society, a student must not only show high scholarship in the form of grades, but he must also exhibit outstanding character, leadership, and service in his school. The first duty of a Junior who attains this recognition for his high standard of scholarship is the responsibility of the manual labor for graduation — a most fitting acknowledgement. But there are more serious and worthwhile rewards for becoming a member of the Honor Society. A student will feel a sense of satisfaction in achieving recognition for his work and serving as an ideal for the rest of the school.

SITTING: N. Garland, L. Townsend, P. Borrelli, F. McMullin, P. Lombard, K. Stone. STANDING: E. Wypler, E. Sounders, J. Doebler, S. Richardson.

SCIENCE CLUB

ROW 1: S. Murphy, E. Saunders, K. Flint, P. Barrelli, J. Wypler, M. Martell. ROW 2: Mr. Marsden, F. Thyng, R. MacArthur, K. Terkelsen, R. White, E. Haagland, S. Richardson, A. Avakian, K. Stane, V. MacDonald, D. Greenlie, N. Pearsan ROW 3: J. Abbott, T. Sawyer, R. Shaw, R. Thamas.

At their monthly meetings, the members of the Science Club are able to hear talks by experts in scientific fields; they also organize field trips and observe such phenomena as last year's transit of Mercury. Students who participate in the Club-sponsored Science Fair find the use of the research file very helpful in solving any problems relating to their "depth studies."

Through films, guest speakers, and "pen pals" the Russian Club brings the exciting world of Gorky Street and Red Square to Weston High. Comrades Marotta and Stone, advisor and President respectively, dictate policy whenever the club meets behind the Iron Curtain of Room 106.

Officers and Closs Representatives: K. Stone, A. Avakian, S. Gross, J. Bump, P. Comeou, J. Hoogland, R. Thomas, Advisor: Miss Zelinka.

MATH CLUB

Prominent Mathematics Club activities are the annual parents meeting, the mathematical Christmas decoration get-together, and the spring guest conclave with other Math Clubs from local schools. Club members also attend lectures by guest speakers and have the chance to investigate and discuss many interesting math problems with fellow cohorts.

DISCUSSION CLUB

Whenever enough members gather, the Discussion Club has a meeting. The discussions are characterized by enthusiasm rivaling the Great Debates. Capital Punishment, Good or Bad, and Should the Voting Age Be Lowered are topics which have effected lively controversies.

FRENCH CLUB

The French-Affiliation Club has continued its reputation of productivity and organization aside from the responsibility of maintaining the finances and spirit of the eleven year-old Weston-Rhombas Exchange Program. The Club's membership encompasses approximately one third of the school body. The activities in which the members participate is certainly an admirable reflection upon the club's appreciation of France and her people. Although the club has not had the opportunity of sharing the experiences of last year's exchange student, this year's visitor from France, Annie Wiest, has made up for the loss and has enriched the club's successful year.

SMOKE SIGNAL

The Smoke Signal merged with The Town Crier this year. People in Weston, Wayland, and Cochituate now read the school paper. The Smoke Signal illustrates the talent of the student reporters and the high standards set by editor Bev Boden and advisor Miss Deisher.

S. Jones, K. Ashbrook, P. Lombard, M. Standish, E. Wypler — editor, M. Martell, J. Bump, J. Hoagland, R. Laughner, Mr. Walker.

LITERARY STAFF

Editor Edie Wypler and a small, selective staff organized the first literary magazine at Weston High. Under the guidance of Mr. Walker, the students on the staff have the opportunity to learn critical principles. The English classes supply outstanding compositions to be considered for this annual publication.

"The Roin in Spain"

"Dos here is on picture ove mine school, Vicenzo."

This year's play production of "Pygmalion" was startlingly professional in its portrayal of Eliza's rise from the London gutter, which took place under the able teaching of Professor Higgins. A mouth full of marbles, Eliza's gutteral screeches, her unforgetable "aaagh," stately Professor Zoltan Karpathy's "hoongarian," shrewd dealings with the "Larned" professor, the ornate, fuchia-horned Victrola, and of course, the romantic embrace at the end are only a few of the unforgetable parts of "Pygmalion." Judy Hoagland and Betsy Wigginton, both playing the leading role of Eliza Doolittle, did an excellent job scratching their ribs and biting their shawls as they fought their way to a level of histrionic competence. "Professor" Paul Curtis and "Colonel" Roy MacArthur also did a professional job of acting, and director Mr. Zorn should be complimented for the exceptional performance.

"Ah, oh, temper, temper."

ORCHESTRA

The Weston High School Orchestra, directed by Mr. Corley and composed of thirty members in the ninth through twelfth grades, participates in two major assemblies each year. The Christmas Assembly, climaxed two years in a row by Paula Toner's solos, was enjoyed by both students and parents. The Spring Concert is the final demonstration of the year's achievements, and the long hours of practice result in an excellent concert at the Country School. The orchestra has accepted several invitations to participate in the Regional All-State Festival, giving another indication of the ability of its members.

The Senior Choir, the Freshman Choir, and the Boys' Glee Club all have important parts in the Christmas Assembly and the Spring Concert, the two major music concerts of the year. The robed girls on the Senior Choir make up the largest singing group. The freshman girls, ineligible for the Senior Choir, form a small singing group among themselves. Both choirs are composed of girls who love to sing, and their selections such as "Let it Snow" or "In the Still of the Night," are school favorites. The popular boys' choir gives the musical boys a chance to show their ability. Their performance at the music assemblies is always a delight, especially for the girls.

BAND

From the first colorful fall football game to the spring graduation exercises, the band sets the tone of various events throughout the year. Regular appearances at the home football games, the Christmas Assembly, the Spring Concert, the Northeastern Mass. Musical Festival, class day, graduation, and oh, yes, the exhausting Memorial Day Parade, are programmed by Conductor Mr. Corley, Band President Paula Toner, and the band members. Practice during the conference periods results in many unexpected noises coming from the art room, the boiler room, or a closet by those who are unable to arrange a regular practice schedule.

MAJORETTES

FOOTBALL

Under the stolen banners of new red and white home uniforms, the otherwise maroon and gray Weston High School football team had a season filled with rewarding victories. With Bobby White and Bud Foster at the helm, the Wildcats had a record of six wins and three losses. Also incorporated in this season, were decisive set backs, including an overload of injuries, from skins and bruises to sprains and broken bones.

From the first day of the training camp at North Woods Y.M.C.A. Camp on Lake Winnipesaukee, to the bitter cold and practice in the dark before the Wayland game, the men on the football squad are to be commended for their excellent sportsmanship, fight, and desire to win. Both Coaches Harris and Todaro and co-captains Evans and McDonald agreed that this was the best squad Weston has had to work with since their coming here.

The girls' field hockey team finished the season with four wins, two ties, and only one loss. Large maroon jackets donated by the football team gave the varsity added prestige and warmth. Co-captain Posy Lombard was high scorer, and Cecil Herrick and Anne Jones were tied for second. The jayvees, despite the shortage of jackets had an undefeated season. Pam Herring and Bea Cahill were high scorers. Next year's team will have a new hockey field, but we will always remember the puddles on the old field.

CLASS D FINALISTS

Commanded by Capt. Perkins and Coach Carini, the 1960-1961 basketball team experienced a season with an improvement over the previous three years winning ten games out of fourteen, giving them a second place in the Duel County League and a solid berth in the Tech Tourney. The balanced team effort was led offensively by Bud Foster with 232 points and defensively by Ron Powers. The best games of the season were played against Wayland with Wayland taking both, one by two points and the other by one in the last few seconds. Both losses were discouraging, but the sportsmanship exhibited and the heightening excitement made both games worthwhile to both the team and the spectators.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Girls' Basketball teams finished this season with the Varsity remaining undefeated and untied and the J.V.'s losing only two of their games. Along with this record of unmistakable success, the girls enjoyed many good times at practice and in games, particularly one in which the guards and forwards exchanged positions on the court.

Posy Lombard led her fellow guards in preventing high scores by opposing teams, Concord accumulating the highest total with 35 points. The forwards showed their proficiency in their two 46 point games and in a record-breaking individual total of 126 points by Paula Toner.

BASEBALL

The Weston team had a better season this year than last, with a record of 7 wins and 7 losses. The team was led by the batting of R. Powers (.422) and freshman, R. Trowbridge (.364). The pitching staff, A. King, F. McMullin and G. LaTucky, pitched well throughout the season. The undefeated Wayland team had a difficult time in downing the determined Weston nine in a hard-fought game. With the coaching of George Harris, the team improved greatly, and ended with wins over Ashland and Acton-Boxborough.

The Weston High School team had a good season last spring. Their matches were spurred on by the excellent singles of Jeff Hubbard, Jim Campbell, and Tom Duffy. The doubles were played by Bart Eddy and Phil Comeau; Kim McMullin and David Connolly. The team defeated Concord twice, Lexington once, and lost to Lynnfield, Newton J.V., and once to Westwood. The Weston team tore through an undefeated Westwood team in a second match, causing the upset of the season.

TENNIS

After the final cry of "game, set, match," the girls' tennis team concluded an undefeated season under their new coach, Miss Sutherland. The untouchables, Posy and Esther Lombard, again won their first and second singles respectively, as Weston had the edge twice over Westwood, and once over Newton, Concord, and Melrose. A great amount of spirit, plus natural ability perfected by Miss Sutherland's coaching, accounted for the terrific success of the team.

FIELD DAY 1960

"Who's out of step?"

After weeks of preparation, Field Day arrived with a burst of enthusiasm and talent. A new track and a boost from the Boosters' Club spurred The Hurricane on to an energetic showing, but the Sophomores emerged victorious from the sun-baked field. Following an exciting tug-of-war, the Boosters' Club presented trophies and ribbons to the winners and provided refreshments for all.

The Girls' Softball Team continued the victorious reputation of the Weston girls. The season began with a 14 to 4 victory over Westwood and ended in a driving rainstorm at Walpole. In between, the girls added three more victories and two losses to their record. The widest margin of victory was the defeat of the Wayland team. The girls accumulated 31 runs to Wayland's 8. They owe a debt of thanks to Mr. Kellett for his expert umpiring and between-inning humor.

LACROSSE

Last spring three different kinds of balls, soft, fuzzy, and hard, spun through the air over the fields of Weston High. The hard ball, which was avoided by athletes in pioneer days, is now chased by modern Wildcats. These Wildcats (of the Weston variety) were seen every Friday leaping up and down the field to the tune of "cradle it!" With the help of a strong tailwind, Miss Butera, the team showed terrific spirit and ability in their three scrimmages. This is only the beginning of what will be a popular spring sport.

In its first year as an officially recognized spring sport, the denizens of the cinder oval had a rewarding season, not in meets won, but rather in the experience gained through competition. In the team's record of no wins and five losses is incorporated an excellent effort which showed forth in its constant improvment ending in a near victory over a strong Algonquin team.

CROSS COUNTRY

Over the meadow and through the woods comes the Cross Country team of Weston. With Mr. Marotta holding the reins the young marathoners had a fair season, emerging with one victory and three losses. Captain Peter Borrelli was the teams high scorer, securing a first place in the Marlboro meet and leading the Weston team in both Algonquin meets and in the Bedford meet. Also among those found at the lead of the daily caravan were Jonathan Bump and Bob DeAmbrose.

WESTON-ROMBAS EXCHANGE PROGRAM

ANNIE WIEST

My year at Weston has been the most success-ful of my life and the one I expected most and teachers & be you had a good part in it - Thank you and maybe I'll see you again.

CARTER BOTTJER

While welcoming Annie Wiest, our eighth Rombas exchange student, Weston High School put Carter Bottjer on the boat for Rombas. Although we miss Carter, we are proud to have her representing us there and are happy to hear she is meeting the challenge of a new way of life quite successfully.

Annie was popular from the very beginning. She soon became captain of the Junior Varsity Basketball Team and will always be remembered for her rendition of "When the Saints Go Marching In." We shall never forget the warmth and enthusiasm of our charming French schoolmate with the pig-tail.

The traditional purpose of a yearbook is to build a lasting image of the year. Although the Hurricane will be lasting, there is considerable question as to whether it is a true image of the school; nevertheless it is here to stay with all its subtleties and errors. Many long afternoons and evenings were spent in making this yearbook and while much of the time was not wholly productive, no one will ever forget the humor and enjoyment of the meetings. The staff only hopes that it has fulfilled its responsibility to the school and to the Class of 1961 and thanks them for the opportunity of doing so.
